Gladwell the director of GHRM and now Bright Spark Academy (BSA) has been rescuing girls from Gender Based Violence for over 10 years. This year her life's dream to change the culture through education has been realized. Through generous family foundations providing seed money and our wonderful donors stepping up their support; GHRM has created 5 new buildings, renovated 5 old dorms, hired 11 teachers, a secretary, and a general manager; upgraded their water system and kitchen, and now serves morning porridge and lunchtime beans and maize to over 300 village children in addition to our own 30+ girls who have school right here at Girls Hope Rescue Mission! All Glory to God! Thank you.

TOP STORIES

Such happy learners

When Gladwell decided to open BSA to local villagers she had no idea that everyone wanted to go to “Gladwell’s school”. Every day small neighbor children came to see the progress of the campus development.

How do you create 400+ uniforms in 60 days?

To meet the demand Gladwell set up a tailor shop and provided a great economic opportunity to local village tailors. Parents from 17 villages rallied together to purchase materials from BSA and have uniforms made right here on campus!

A typical school day begins @ Bright Spark Academy

Flag Ceremony and instruction from the Headmaster

After a hot recess plenty of clean, cool water is great!

Meetings with the Headmaster, parents are getting deeply involved with their children's education.

As the school day ends, 2nd grade class students dropped by to see the new pump house being installed, automating the filling of the water tanks scattered around campus.
